LAMKIN URGED AS N. E. A. HEAD

STATE TEACHERS ENDORSE HIM FOR NATIONAL PRESIDENT.

BUILDING UNDECIDED

Action On Location Of New $40,000 Headquarters Is Deferred For One Year.

Uel W. Lamkin, president of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, was endorsed for president of the National Education Association at the meeting of the Missouri State Teachers Association in St. Louis yesterday.

Mr. Lamkin's name will be put before the national convention next summer by the Missouri delegation.

Other resolutions adopted yesterday by the state association expressed advocacy of a single salary schedule for classroom teachers, regardless of whether they are in grade or high school; an appeal for a state pension fund for superannuated teachers; indorsement of Governor Baker's proposed amendment to the state constitution for more adequate revenue for the state school system; indorsement and support of the national educational association, and commendation of the work done by the Mississippi Valley association in behalf of inland waterways.

In another resolution, the United States was urged to "bring the question of a world court on the Harding-Hughes term to a record voted on that chamber as soon as practicable after December 17."

Indorsement was expressed for the American Red Cross and the Junior Red Cross chapters in their educational program purposed for the development of the child's spiritual nature and a better human friendship between individuals and nations alike.

St. Louis, Nov. 13.—The Missouri State Teachers Association got back to its convention calm today with the issue over the establishment of the proposed state headquarters at Columbia or Jefferson City deferred until the next meeting in Kansas City.

The delegates were just getting set for long hours of oratory late yesterday when Eugene Fair, president of the state teachers college at Kirksville, made a motion to postpone consideration of the matter until next year. The motion carried.

Former Resident Dies in Iowa Wednesday

Mrs. C. H. Hollied Succumbed In Sac City After Several Months Illness Funeral Services Tomorrow.

Mrs. C. H. Hollied, a former resident of Maryville, died Wednesday afternoon at Sac City, Ia., according to word received here today. Funeral services will be held at Sac City Saturday and burial will be at Cherokee Ia. Mrs. Hollied had been ill for several months.

She is survived by her husband, who formerly owned the greenhouses now owned and operated by Alfred Engelmann, and five children, four daughters and one son.

Mr. Hollied had recently sold his greenhouses at Sac City and the family had expected to go to their new home at Cherokee, Ia., this week.

Endeavorers to Study Violations of Law

Miss Katherine Gestrein will be the leader of the Christian Endeavor service at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening. The subject for discussion will be "How Can We Overcome the Spirit of Lawlessness?" Dr. Fred Keller will make a short talk. Miss Harriet Miller and Miss Dotty Davis will furnish special musical numbers. Miss Blanche Anderson, Miss Nellie Harrold and Rudolph Flentze will give short talks.

Flute solo—John Hiatt.

Talk—L. L. St. Clair.

Plans for a formal debate are being planned for the next meeting.

Earth Tremors Are Recorded Early Today

Last for More Than Two Hours and Estimated Distance Is About 5,400 Miles From Chicago.

St. Louis, Nov. 13. — Earthquake shocks, lasting from 6:45 a. m. until 8:07 a. m. were recorded on the seismograph at the St. Louis University here today.

Attendants said some of the wave groups were missing and it was impossible to determine the distance of the quakes. They were of considerable intensity.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Severe earth shocks, gradually increasing in intensity and lasting for more than two hours, were registered on the seismographs at the United States weather bureau and the University of Chicago this morning. The first shocks were noted at 6:32 a. m., and continued until 8:10 a. m.

The indicated distance was 5,400 miles from Chicago.

TUBERCULOSIS FOES TO MEET

COUNCIL OF WAR TO BE HELD AT DINNER NOV. 18.

DR. STEWART SPEAKER

State Health Commissioner Will Give Principal Address—Other Short Talks.

Invitations to a dinner to be held next Wednesday night at the Maryville Country club are being sent out this week by the Nodaway County Tuberculosis Association, of which Leslie G. Somerville is president.

The dinner is to be given to acquaint those present with the purpose, accomplishments and plans for the future work of the Tuberculosis Association. Among the invited guests are the editors, school superintendents, physicians, ministers, parish priests and club leaders of the county.

Dr. James Stewart of Jefferson City, state health commissioner, will be the principal speaker of the evening. Other short talks will be given by representatives, of the ministers, physicians, school superintendents, editors, the Parent-Teachers' Association, the Farm Clubs, the Women's Federated Clubs, the State Teachers College and the Chamber of Commerce.

Special music will be furnished by members of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music of the State Teachers College.

Mr. Somerville and H. T. Phillips, vice-president of the county organization, are now in St. Louis, where they met Wednesday with the state board of the Tuberculosis Association.

Farm Near Blanchard Brings $195 An Acre

One of the largest farm deals made in this section in recent months was closed yesterday when the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Don Turnbull, three miles south of Blanchard, was sold for $195 an acre.

The Turnbull farm consists of 120 acres, well improved, and the total consideration was $23,400. Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull, who live in Maryville, sold to Mr. and Mrs. James H. Reese, who have been renting the farm the past year.

The land is in Atchison County but borders on the Nodaway County line. The transaction was made through Wright and Dragoo of this city.

The deal is regarded as a distinct indication that land values in Northwest Missouri are "comming back."

Blames Ignoring of Signals for Wreck

Plainfield, N. J., Nov. 13.—Failure of the engineer to observe the signals was the explanation of the Pennsylvania Railroad today for the cause of the disastrous wreck near here yesterday of the two crack Pennsylvania trains in which ten persons were killed, six others so seriously injured that they may die and twenty-one more receiving minor injuries.

Red Cross Worker at Three Schools Today

Mrs. Fern Crull, junior Red Cross chairman, visited the schools of Quitman, Burlington Junction, and Clearmont today in the interest of the Red Cross roll call.

ATHLETIC ASSN. TO BE FORMED

TO PROMOTE GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP IN CONTESTS.

ZIEGLER AT MEETING

Local Superintendent Is Chairman Of Organization Session At Statler Hotel In St. Louis.

A state athletic association was organized at a meeting of a number of school representatives at the Statler Hotel in St. Louis yesterday afternoon.

The purpose of the association will be to foster good sportsmanship in various athletic contests and to maintain a high standard of athletics in the schools of the state.

L. E. Ziegler, superintendent of the Maryville public schools, was chairman of the meeting yesterday afternoon. A committee was appointed to draft a constitution, which will become effective immediately. The committee is composed of one representative from each district larger than one county, and also one from St. Louis County, St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph, the University of Missouri, and one representative from the five teachers colleges. Dr. Henry Curtis, director of physical education and hygiene, is also included on the organization committee.

C. L. Brewer, director of athletics of the University of Missouri, represents that institution, and O. G. Sanford of Trenton represents the Northwest Missouri district. President Eugene Fair of Kirksville represents the five state teachers colleges.

Dr. Curtis, President Fair and Mr. Brewer are only advisory members of the committee, however.

George Bond, basketball coach at the University of Missouri, was present at the meeting yesterday and outlined the wishes of the University which desired to co-operate in the undertaking, he said. Uel W. Lamkin also spoke as did Coach Reid of Warrensburg.

The delegates, who are perfecting the organization, will meet in St. Louis on December 12 to complete plans.

The organization is in no sense a conference of any sort but is simply for the purpose of furthering good sportsmanship and advancing the general spirit of athletics in the schools L. E. Ziegler explained this afternoon.

Rites for Harvey McKnight at Barnard

Death Came Monday at Dell, Mont.,—Body Arrived at Barnard Today at Noon.

The body of Harve McKnight of Dell, Mont., arrived in Barnard at noon today and a short funeral service was held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Masonic cemetery there. Dave McKnight, a brother, accompanied the body to Barnard.

Mr. McKnight died suddenly Monday evening while helping a neighbor thresh. He was about 60 years old. He formerly lived in Bolckow. Surviving are a son, Virgil McKnight of Dell, Mont., his father, James McKnight, and two brothers, Dave and Smith McKnight, both living in Montana. His wife died a number of years ago.

United Charity Plan Approved by Alliance

Ministers of Maryville Vote in Favor of Community Charity Chest After This Year—Operates Successfully

The Ministers Alliance of Maryville voted this week to approve a Community Charity Chest for all community benevolences after this year, and that this year it will co-operate with the individual appeals as usual. Various organizations at various times have tried to inaugurate this united charity plan. This plan is in operation in most of the large cities. It saves duplication of effort and a multiplicity of appeals. For this year, however, this united plan is not in operation and whatever is done along this line must necessarily be done by each organization making its own appeal and securing its response.

Horton Given Another Delay on His Hearing

Jefferson City, Nov. 13.—Dr. Roy B Horton of Purdy, Mo., charged with fraud in procuring his medical license, has been granted another delay in the injunction suit to prevent the state board of health from bringing him from trial on the charge.

First Broadcasting of Local Football Game Is Success

For the first time, a Maryville football game today was "put on the air" by radio.

With the State Teachers College, the Chamber of Commerce and the Democrat-Forum and Tribune co-operating, a play-by-play account of the Bearcats-Springfield Bears championship game was broadcast by remote control from KFNF at Shenandoah, Ia., the station of the Henry Field Seed Co.

Harry C. Todd of the Hanamo Telephone Co., also aided in the broadcasting, by providing a direct wire from the football field to the telephone office and then to the broadcasting station at Shenandoah.

As each play was made, William Mapel, sports editor for the Democrat-Forum and Tribune, recited it by long distance telephone to the regular KFNF announcer at Shenandoah, who immediately gave it to the radio audience.

There were a number of radio listeners locally and the report came in clear.

SEVEN MINERS ARE TRAPPED

TRENTON MEN CAUGHT WHEN EARTH BLOCKS ENTRANCE.

ALL BELIEVED SAFE

It Is Thought That Rescue Workers Will Reach Victims By 9 O'Clock Tonight—Air Plentiful.

Trenton, Mo., Nov. 13.—Seven miners were trapped in a coal mine near here today when a fall of rock blocked the entrance. There is plenty of air in the shaft, mine officials said, and workers expected to dig through the debris tonight, enabling the trapped men to escape. None of the miners were injured, according to reports.

It was thought that the men would be reached by 9 o'clock tonight.

The cave-in occurred shortly after the miners entered the shaft to go to work this morning. The slide gradually formed a barrier, and all during the morning communication with the entombed men was continued.

As the avalanche gradually settled, tons of earth separated them from their companions.

All of the victims are Trenton men. Among them were Peck Husted, Charles Russell, Joe Legg, Charles Allen, Charles Griffin, Henry Brown and George Brown.

Mrs. Frances Fink Files Divorce Suit

Alleging that her husband associated with other women and that he had declared his intention of leaving her, Mrs. Frances Fink has filed suit for divorce from Lawrence Fink. She also asks the custody of two minor children, Vivian Marie, 3, and Mary Alice, 2.

Mrs. Fink's petition states that the couple were married in this county on January 22, 1921, and lived together until August of this year.

Community Club Near Skidmore Buys Home

Union Valley Community Association Purchases School Building Abandoned by Consolidated District

The first of Nodaway County's community clubs, so far as is known here, to acquire a building for its own use, is the Union Valley Community Association, which has purchased the school building southeast of Skidmore, known as the Union Valley school and formerly used by district 135.

The school was abandoned after the forming of consolidated district No. 136 at Skidmore. It has not been in use except as a community center, and the residents of the vicinity finally decided to buy it from the consolidated school district. A bill of sale, filed today in the office of the county recorder of deeds, gives the consideration as $225. This includes the schoolhouse and all outbuildings but not the land. The sale is made to Aaron Linville, William Taylor and George Owens as trustees of the Union Valley Community Association.

MARYVILLE 3, SPRINGFIELD 3

BEARCATS AND CLOSEST RIVALS BATTLE TO A TIE.

CHAMPIONSHIP IS WON

For First Time Teachers College Has Clear Title in M. I. A. A. Conference.

Apparently beaten by the narrow margin of one field goal, the Bearcats of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College staged a mighty comeback in the closing minutes of today's game with the Springfield Bears, and a place kick from the trained toe of Ikey Eads tied the score and brought a championship to Maryville.

Not until the fourth quarter was either team able to score. Then the visitors from the Ozarks forced back the fighting Bearcats until they were within the shadow of their own goal posts. Here the Bearcats last desperate stand withstood all attempts at the line, and Reynaud, Springfield star, dropped back for a try at place kick. The kick was good.

On the ensuing kick-off the Bearcats received and opened a forward pass attack that carried the ball rapidly to the Bears' 2-yard line. Here the Southwest Missourians proved worthy foemen, and the Bearcat plunges were futile. Eads dropped back and booted the goal which assured a tie.

The game ended without further scoring.

Bearcats Win Title.

Despite their success in holding the Bearcats to a tie, Springfield must take second place in the conference standing, because of a defeat by Warrensburg, a team which Maryville defeated last week.

The play was in mid-field most of the time. Springfield appeared to have the best of the "breaks" by recovering two Maryville fumbles, which stopped rallies which looked as if they might result in touchdowns for the Bearcats.

At the end of the half the Bears had a slight edge in first downs. Both teams rallied on the defense whenever their goals were endangered.

At the opening of the second half, Coach Lawrence started the same line-up that finished the first half. Ray Britton took the place of Abbot at left end for the Bears.

Fumble Proves Costly.

The Bears carried the fight to the Bearcats in the first quarter and had the ball consistently in Maryville territory. A Maryville rally carried the ball to the center of the field in the middle of the quarter but a fumble by Willoughby proved costly to the Bearcats at this point.

In the second quarter, the Bearcats advanced the ball to the Springfield 16-yard line but when the Bears held, the Maryville field general chose to attempt to score by the forward pass route rather than by a field goal. The pass was unsuccessful.

Springfield twice attempted to score by place kicks in the first half, but one was low and the other wide.

Neither team could gain consistently through the opposing line, and both teams were tackling viciously. The Maryville backfield, however, were plunging hard and plowing through the heavy Springfield line. The work of Eads and Search on the offense was spectacular, and Berst and Miller were throwing the Bears for frequent losses on attempts at end runs.

Bears Arrive at Noon.

The Springfield team arrived in Maryville at noon today on the Burlington. Twenty-five men made the trip.

Officials for the game were: Bunn, Kansas, referee; Trusler, College of Emporia, umpire; Lookabaugh, Kansas, head linesman.

The Springfield team was first to arrive on the field. The team practiced signals and place kicking. Abbott was inserted in place of Ward for the left end position by Coach Briggs of Springfield.

The field was dry and fast and a whirlwind game was to be expected.

The College razzers occupied one section of the grand stands and kept up a noisy spirit during the entire time. The Bearcats came on the field fifteen minutes after the Bears appeared.

The lineup was the same as first announced. The teams apepared about evenly balanced in weight.

The Line-Up.

But Little Hope for Submarine or Crew

Fate of British M-1 May Never be Known, Navy Officials Believe—Lost in English Channel.

London, Nov. 13.—The fate of the British submarine M-1, lost in the English channel yesterday, probably will never be known.

The submarine was located by rescue ships today but in such deep water that divers cannot go down to her and salvage. Officers estimate that it will be practically impossible to raise the vessel to the surface.

Ninety-nine officers and men, aboard the submarine, probably met tragic death by drowning, according to navy men here.

It is believed that when the M-1 made a dive yesterday that she struck a submerged mine which exploded and tore a hole in her side, instantly flooding her and drowning the men within. Another theory which has been advanced is that the M-1 dove into a submerged wreck and sprung her plates, causing the ship to flood.

FRANCE HOPES FOR FUNDING

ITALIAN SETTLEMENT HEARTENS GOVERNMENT IN PARIS.

WILL RATIFY TERMS

Although Congressional Bombardment Is Expected, Sentiment For Settlement is in Majority, it is Believed.

Paris, Nov. 13.—France probably will take early steps to renew her debt negotiations with the United States as a result of the settlement of the Italian-American debt, it was learned today.

Premier Painleve, after receiving the details of the Italian debt settlement with the United States, went into conference with Foreign Minister Briand relative to formulation of new proposals to both the United States and England.

There was no denying the pleasures of French officials over the generous terms granted Italy and it was generally believed these terms might indicate a change in policy of the American debt-funding commission.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Italian debt agreement in which Italy is to repay $2,042,000,000 borrowed during the war, on terms far more liberal than have been accorded any other debtor nation, is due for some Congressional bombardment when presented for ratification. However, the opinion in and out of Congress today is that the settlement will be overwhelmingly approved.

There will be some speech making on American generosity and some sympathy extended the American taxpayers by those who will point out the Italian settlement represents a net loss of around 75 million dollars a year. But in the end, there will be plenty of votes for ratification.

The net loss to the taxpayers is incurred through the difference in interest rates on the money involved in the debt.

Italy will pay an average of three-quarters of 1 per cent. The treasury is paying an average of 4¼ per cent to holders of Liberty bonds.

Guilford Business Men to Reorganize Club

Meeting to Be Held There Soon—Maryville C. of C. Representatives to Offer Suggestions

A community club, similar in purpose to a chamber of commerce, is in process of organization at Guilford, according to a communication received today by D. A. Caldwell, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Service.

The business men of this town in the southeastern part of Nodaway County are anxious to organize some sort of a club which would promote a better spirit between the town and surrounding territory.

For several years, there has been an organization in Guilford to support a band there, but it is planned to revise this existing club on a more thorough basis. Programs would be given in a number of schoolhouses in the vicinity of Guilford.

The Maryville Chamber of Commerce has been asked to aid in the reorganization of the existing club at Guilford. A banquet will be given there within a short time and speakers from the local Chamber of Commerce will tell of the work being done here and offer suggestions for the club at Guilford.

ASKS RECORDS FOR DEFENSE

MITCHELL'S COUNSEL DEMANDS OFFICIAL DOCUMENTS.

WILL HALT TESTIMONY

Prosecution Objects to Use of Carbon Copies by Witness at Court Martial Hearing Today.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The military court martial of Col. William Mitchell broke up in a row this afternoon when the defense counsel refused to proceed further with the case until the war department has complied with its request for hundreds of official documents.

The Mitchell defense was brought to a standstill when Col. Sherman Moreland, judge-advocate, objected to testimony of defense witnesses upon carbon copies of official records.

When the court sustained the objection, Representative Reid announced: "Until these records are produced by the war department, the defense will have no further testimony to offer."

The issue came as a climax while Maj. Herbert A. Dargue of the army plans section was on the stand. Dragne attempted to read from his carbon copies of war department records, showing the general staff tried to reduce the pay of the flyers as part of a general economy program.

Moreland then demanded that the defense produce the original records.

"We called upon the prosecution on November 2 for those papers," said Reid heatedly. "Look at the particular burden the defense is under. We dig out these papers and bring them in here and the prosention objects to them. Yet the war department can't find them in eleven days. We asked for a stipulation on the subject of the flyers' pay several days ago, and the trial judge advocate apparently developed writer's cramp for he failed to sign them."

Washington, Nov. 13.—The story of Mrs. Margaret Lansdowne, widow of the commander of the ill-fated Shenandoah, that Capt. Paul Foley, naval judge-advocate, attempted to persuade her to give "false testimony" in the investigation into the Shenandoah disaster, will stand in the records of the army court martial of Col. William Mitchell.

Motions to strike out the testimony of the widow were denied today at the resumption of the court martial.

As a result of the court's ruling, Mrs. George W. Steele, wife of the commander at Lakehurst, and Captain Foley will be summoned as witnesses at the trial.

Mrs. Lansdowne said Foley attempted to influence her testimony before the Shenandoah board by preparing a "false" statement for her. The statement was delivered to her, she said, by Mrs. Steele.

In recent war manuevers between the army air service and the anti-aircraft forces, the war department "muzzled" the aviators while giving their opponents unlimited publicity, Maj. Herbert A. Dargue of the army war plans section testified today.

Dargue declared an order was issued by the war department forbidding all publicity on the war tests held at Camp Dix, N. J. on July 27 last. The "publicity lid," he said, was later taken off for the coast artillery but never revoked for the air service.

Says Syrians Gain Ground From French

London, Nov. 13.—Syrian rebels have gained another victory against the French near the Palestine border and the British have sent out reinforcements to the frontier, according to a Jewish telegraphic agency's dispatch from Jerusalem today.

Citizens Bank of Graham Files Suit

John Dickie is defendant in a suit brought by the Citizens Bank of Graham to obtain judgment on a note for $1,565.23, made April 25, of this year. The bank alleges that the note is past due and asks for the amount with interest at 8 per cent from April 25, together with $150 for attorney's fees.

Horseback Riding Is Capital's Big Sport

Number of Prominent Men Like This Form Of Recreation—Secretary Jardine Is Leader.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART.
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—Horseback riding is a great social fad in Washington. Among others a good many very prominent public men go in for it. Secretary of Agriculture Jardine is one of them. One might have expected he would be. Nor can it properly be called a fad in his case. Rather, it's part of his very existence. For, as all the world knows, he's an ex-cowboy.

An ex-cowboy, hey! He must be a picturesque sight in his four-gallon hat, his fringed chaps, his high-heeled boots with spurs rattling, his bandana knotted loosely in front of his adam's apple, his flapping—no, no, cut out the six gun. He wouldn't wear that in Washington. But a breezy western figure anyway!—loping along one of the Rock Creek bridle paths on his rough, tough little cayuse. See him sway easily in his deep Mex saddle as he rolls a pill for himself and snaps a match aflame with his thumbnail.

A picture of the good old times and wide open spaces when and where men was men and all that stuff, ain't it? Well, it's purely a fancy picture, far as Washington and Secretary Jardine are concerned. What Secretary Jardine really does ride is a tall, gangling, elegantly groomed animal with a wild rolling eye, a dilated nostril, a rat tail and a roached coiffure—a perfect dlight in as English a saddle and actype of the English hunter—all becessories as the Prince of Wales ever parted company from at a water jump.

How does Secretary Jardine sit this critter? Believe me, he doesn't sit him like a centaur. Neither does he sit him like a cattleman, rather slouchily, with legs at full stretch. He's anything but a man and a horse. He's a man on a horse. He's distinctly superimposed. He sits in a fashion no tan bark riding master could find the least fault with. He sits with his knees hiked up in front of him until it's funny he doesn't bump his chin against 'em when he bounces. He sits there insecurely on that little leather wafer, with nothing to hang on by, and somehow he manages to keep from being shot off into space even when his mount breaks into a canter. As for a lope, that horse would laugh out loud if such a thing were suggested to him.

Col. E. M. House in New Plea for League

Says America Must Get in International Organization in Order to Assume Leadership.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 13 (United Press).—Colonel Edward M. House has reiterated his plea for America's entrance into the world court and the League of Nations at Geneva.

In an interview given to the Yale Daily News, student paper he stated that the United States had lost the opportunity to lead the world and must now be content to follow.

Isolation is impossible, House said, and if this country wishes to protect her international rights the only course is entrance into the league.

Metal Scraps on Roadways Cleared by Electric Magnets

The cleaning from roads of iron and steel debris dropped by vehicles and likely to puncture tires, is being carried on in the west by means of electric magnets suspended from trucks. On one 7-mile stretch, 603 pounds of nails, tacks, bolts and various pieces of scrap iron were picked up. That's 86 pounds for every mile. Much of this material was too minute to be seen by a person walking along the road.

In this work a 36-inch lifting magnet was passed back and forth over seven miles of the Yellowstone Trail in Idaho. The entire roadway was "swept" clean. This job was done by suspending the lifting magnet from the rear of a 5-ton truck so that it was about four inches above the surface of the road. Magnetizing current was supplied to the magnet by 72 cells of storage batteries which were carried in the truck body.

This magnet and truck were loaned to the Idaho State Highway Department through the courtesy of one of the large industrial companies of that state. This company had already cleaned up other roads near their plant with this same outfit and there, too, they had removed an astonishing quantity of puncture-causing scrap iron and steel.

While this magnet was at work on the Yellowstone Trail, a large number of cars parked along the road and many motorists followed along on foot behind the truck to see the magnet operate.

All Over Northwest Missouri

Blooming In November.

On Tuesday morning of this week, Lester Pettijohn, our local undertaker, stepped out into his yard and picked a small bouquet of pansies in full bloom. Think of it, pansies blooming in Missouri, and only two or three days before one of the worst blizzards on record raged right here in Oregon, and about six inches of snow fell, and the mercury dropped to four degrees above zero on last Sunday morning, but on Monday and Tuesday, "Old Sol" got busy and removed the greater part of it, yet the pansies are blooming in Missouri in November.—Holt County Sentinel, Oregon.

Buys Old Safe.

Attorney Geo. C. Price has purchased we expect the oldest safe in this city and had it moved to his office in the Columbia building yesterday. The safe was the property of the Mound City Mill Co., and was one locked with a key. It is thicker than many now being sold and while not burglar proof it willstand the fire test that is all that is necessary as there are few safes, which are burglarproof.—Mound City Journal.

Northwest Missouri Is Sure To Have An Active Boom.

Men who are acquainted with conditions say that the St. Joseph territory is now attracting attention everywhere. The east extending from New York to Florida is in the midst of an active boom, and Northwest Missouri is sure to have a boom as soon as Missouri gets her roads paved. The travel over these paved roads, the Jefferson Highway and the Itaska Park Highway extending from Canada on the north to New Orleans on the south, the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway extending east and west and crossing the Missouri river at St. Joseph, will certainly bring Northwest Missouri to the attention to those who want to locate in the best county on earth.

In another year or so Missouri will have completed her splendid system of roads and will have the best paved roads of any state in the west and when this takes place Northwest Missouri will come into its own.—Savannah Reporter.

Lower Light Rates.

Good news to the more than 300 light users at Grant City will be the announcement of the officials of the Maryville Electric Light and Power Co., at Albany Saturday—that a new and lower schedule of light rates would be put into effect on January 1st. It has been held because of a considerable increase in taxes of the company in this district. The reduction will lack just that amount of being lowered as taxes were increased. Their franchise in Grant City expires in July, 1927, and a new franchise will be voted on at the April, 1926, election.—Worth County Tribune, Grant City.

Passenger Gas Car Survives Cow Wreck.

The gasoline motor car in use on this branch of the Burlington has proved its metal. It's small, but it's mighty, and the last doubt is removed that it is a regular train, even if of only one car. It has the punch.

All this was proved a night or two ago when it struck a big black cow belonging to F. M. Frisby, on the track about 100 yards south of the depot at Gardner, carried the cow for about 100 feet along the rails, and dumped her off its front without its leaving the track. The car was behind time, and was going at a good rate of speed at the time the cow introduced herself in the wrong spot.—Bethany Republican.

Bethany Hotel May "Go Over."

A possibility of success for the plan to erect a modern hotel building in Bethany is forseen by backers of the project, following a luncheon Friday night at which the proposition was discussed from all angles by a group of representative business men.

Those interested believe a modern hotel can be made possible if between $15,000 and $20,000 in stock can be subscribed by small shareholders.

The venture will cost in the neighborhood of $45,000 to buy and remodel the structure now occupied by the Central Hotel, according to the estimate of E. Gray Powell, St. Joseph architect. Of this amount, more than half is assured by a few persons, who have interested themselves in the matter. The balance probably will have to be raised through some other means, possibly by offering stock to the public. —Bethany Clipper.

So live that you can go to the door without wondering if it is a bill collector.

It would be all right for a mother to wait up for her daughter to come in if she could sleep in the daytime.

Nothing puzzles a bald-headed man more than how fast his whiskers can grow.

Love is awful stuff. It's a fire which breaks out unexpectedly, then keeps two people busy gathering fuel for it.

Men are terrible people. Especially married men. Costs a married man more to live. But maybe it is worth more.

A GROUCH NOT WANTED.

There is nothing so harmful to success as being a grouch. Stomach, liver and intestinal troubles make one grouchy. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy will help overcome these and usually gives complete results.

Our advice to everyone troubled in this way, especially when accompanied with bloating in the stomach, is to try this remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. POLICE NEED CITIZENS' AID

OFFICERS CAN'T DO IT ALL, ONE OF THEM SAYS.

JUSTICE COMES FIRST

Lawbreakers Must Be Punished and Criminal Tendencies Cured, Declares New York Commissioner.

By Richard E. Enright
(Police Commissioner of New York City).

New York, Nov. 13.—The best answer to the crime problem in the United States is better policing. But better policing will be of little avail without the complete cooperation of the other law-enforcing officers, including the courts, the public prosecutors and our grand juries and trial judges. When most of our best citizens dodge jury duty, proper law enforcement cannot be obtained.

The efforts of the police department to enforce the law and prevent crime will avail nothing if the criminals, after arrest, are not promptly and properly punished. But if we are to have better policing, we must have larger police forces with better pay and moral support from the public which they serve.

That is the goal toward which the New York police administration has been working these last eight years, and if the rest of the country looks to its greatest city for leadership, in the future, as it has in the past, that is the goal toward which all will travel. It has not been without a great deal of hard work that New York has come to occupy the position it does today as a morally clean and comparatively safe city.

The creation of the Bureau of Criminal Science is a unique and progressive step toward the ultimate goal of all police effort—the obliteration of the chronic, professional criminal. There is nothing just like it, anywhere, and I am convinced that it will bring about a revolution not only in methods of handling crime, but in our conceptions of its causes and perpetuation.

The Bureau of Criminal Science is composed of two major parts. We have a fully equipped chemical, microscopical, x-ray and physical laboratory with a chemico-legal expert in charge of analysis and tests, and a squad of specially trained men engaged in obtaining and collating pertinent data on the most up-to-date scientific lines.

The other part equips New York to equal or surpass the achievements of the foremost scientific detective forces in the world. It comprises a board of honorary consulting experts, composed of eminent specialists in various lines of criminal investigation.

They include the heads of the chemical departments of the four great universities of this city: Columbia, New York, Fordham and the College of the City of New York, besides Bellevue Hospital's famous toxicologist, Dr. Alexander O. Gettler. Also on the board are two specialists in sciences of pre-eminent value in police work, ballistics and x-ray. All knotty, or mysterious cases that are brought to the bureau by the trained detectives of its staff will be referred to these experts so that the best scientific minds of the country will be available and the "unsolved cases" reduced to the lowest possible minimum.

If the rest of the country looks to its greatest city to set the pace in police work, in the future as it has in the past there is little doubt that a scientific squad will be established in many cities. Modern methods of publicity places the latest scientific developments at the disposal of the criminal and he is quick to employ them, so that it will be necessary for the police to keep one step in advance through the cooperation of scientists.

New York leads the country in wiping out vice and public gambling. Not during eight years has vice openly flaunted itself on the streets of that city, which practically all of the people of the United States visit from time to time. Visitors are safe from the solicitations of vice usual to a great city and they are safe here from personal attack. The percentage of crime involving law-abiding citizens is lower here than in any city aproaching its size, though it might reasonably be expected to be higher.

In the matter of street danger, the metropolis stands lowest among the great cities of the United States in deaths from motor accidents, though its traffic problems are without a peer for complexity. That is the result of the traffic light system which we installed in 1920 and of a public safety bureau which we have developed into a great life saving institution.

Urges Women to Join Some Political Party

Chicago, Nov. 15 (United Press)—Join a political party-get on one side of the fence or the other—that was the substance of advice given to women voters by Mrs. Medill McCormick, in an address to the Illinois League of Women Voters.

"It's hard to get a woman to be partisan," Mrs. McCormick said. "She has spent so much time in league with all women to secure the enfranchisement of woman, that she hasn't had time to find out the advantages of belonging to a certain party.

"This government is a party government. Naturally if women want to help run it, they must belong to parties. Decide which one you want to belong to, then start to work in support of it."

SOCIETY

Elect Officers.

Mrs. Charles Gaugh was re-elected president of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Methodist Church yesterday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting in the ladies parlor at the church. Mrs. T. B. Mumma was re-elected treasurer and Mrs. G. P. Wright was elected secretary. Mrs. Wright succeeds Mrs. D. W. Snoderly, who had held the office for the last six years. The society voted to buy three additional windows in the re-modeled church and these will be dedicated to three former pastors, Dr. Gilbert S. Cox, of Columbus, Ohio, Dr. G. L. Haight, and Mrs. Haight, and the Rev. C. H. Stocking. At last month's meeting the society decided to purchase and dedicate two windows to Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Ford and Judge Ira K. Alderman. Arrangements have been completed for the annual bazaar to be held next Thursday in the church basement. A chicken pie dinner and fried chicken supper will be served. Between thirty-five and forty members were present at yesterday's meeting.

Missionary Meeting.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Wilcox Methodist Church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Broyles. The program on "Youth Awakens to the Call of a Friendly Voice" was in charge of Mrs. Fred Winnell. The meeting opened with singing of "Work For the Night Is Coming." The following topics were discussed: "Missionary Motherhood;" "The World Sisterhood of American;" and "A Message From a New American." The program closed with singing of "Where He Leads Me I Will Follow." At the business meeting plans were completed for the bazaar and chicken pie supper next Friday. Those present were Mrs. Charles Hainline, Mrs. Byrl Mitchell, Mrs. Fred Winnell, Mrs. Ed Hartsough and son, Charles, Mrs. Eugene Hall and children, Mrs. Willard Hill, Mrs. Trueblood, Mrs. Hugh Brody, Miss Josie Jenson and Mrs. Brice Hall.

Wesleyan Bible Class.

The November meeting of the Wesleyan Bible Class of the First Methodist Church was held in the League rooms at the church last night with Mrs. F. A. McKee, Mrs. W. S. Frankum, Mrs. W. P. Howland and Miss May Howland as hostesses. The business meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. T. B. Mumma. Mrs. C. C. James was the devotional leader. The second chapter of the text book, "The Slav at Work in America," was discussed by Mrs. W. W. Stanfield, program leader. The program also included piano solos by Lucille and Kenneth Leeson. Refreshments of pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee were served at the close of the meeting. Those present were Mrs. Addie Hackett, Mrs. Lula Fraser, Mrs. C. L. Owen, Mrs. J. W. Herndon, Mrs. C. C. Leeson, Lucille and Kenneth Leeson, Mrs. G. E. Brumbaugh, Miss Edna O'Neal, Mrs. W. W. Stanfield, Mrs. G. P. Wright, Mrs. L. E. Dean, Mrs. L. W. Thompson, Miss May Howland, Mrs. W. P. Howland, Mrs. W. S. Frankum, Berneta McKee, Mary Margaret Hartness, Junior and William Somerville, Mrs. Theodore Gray, Mrs. Walter Davis, Mrs. C. U. Withington, Mrs. C. C. James, Mrs. N. J. Walbridge, Mrs. C. E. Stilwell, Mrs. C. C. Carter, Mrs. Florence Howard, Miss Emma Hull, Mrs. N. H. Brown, Mrs. P. H. Stewart, Mrs. F. A. McKee, Mrs. Virgil Hartness, Mrs. Harry Hartness, Mrs. L. G. Somerville, Mrs. D. O. Belt, Mrs. J. E. Stark, Miss Kitty Taylor, Mrs. S. J. Donahue, Mrs. Alfred Logan and Mrs. Guy Haller.

Shower for Bride-Elect.

An all-day meeting of the Rockford Community Club was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Claude Moore. Lunch was served at noon in cafeteria style. Mrs. Ernest Bainum had charge of the following program, which was presented during the afternoon: Piano duet, Mrs. J. R. Evans and Miss Odessa Wells; vocal solo, Miss Wells; talk on trip to Arizona and California where she spent nearly two years, Mrs. Pearl Miller; vocal duet, Mrs. Evans and Miss Wells; talk on trip to Chicago, Niagara Falls and Detroit, Miss Wells; and a group of readings, Mrs. Jerry Fisher. The members gave a surprise kitchen shower for Miss Odessa Wells, a November bride-elect. The day was spent in tying a comfort, which was also presented to Miss Wells. Mrs. Pearl Miller was a guest at the meeting. Mrs. Cyrus Parker will be hostess at an afternoon meeting on Dec. 10.

Industrial Art Club.

Members of the Mt. Pleasant Industrial Art Club held their regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ed Wiley. Quilting was the diversion for the afternoon and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Loch Gray. Those present were Mrs. Floyd Alexander, Mrs. Loren Hackett, Mrs. Loch Gray, Mrs. Will Hanna, Mrs. Burley Gray and daughter, Mrs. Marion Gray, Mrs. Irvin Neal, Mrs. Lowell Gray and daughter and Mrs. Joe Farrar. The next meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 24, at the home of Mrs. Floyd Alexander. Thanksgiving quotations will be given in answer to roll call. Members are requested to bring embroidery needles and thimbles.

I. F. A. Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Frazee entertained members of the I. F. A. Club and a number of additional guests at their home, north of Maryville, last night. Supper was served in cafeteria style and the remainder of the evening was spent in games. Mrs. Lawrence Gault will entertain the club on Dec. 3. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fagerquist, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Mozingo, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shreve, Mr. and Mrs. Rufe Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cassel, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Moberly, Harold Stafford, Stedman Addison, Lorena Gault, Eva Hindman, and the hosts.

Miss Bookman Hostess.

Miss Ruth Bookman will entertain her Sunday School Class of the Christian Church tonight at her home on East Third street. The class members are Misses Mary Todd, Harriett Miller, Alice Nelson, Leola Miller, Christine DeBord, Kathryn Chandler, Winifred Baker, Louise Logan, Henrietta Hildreth, Ladean Holliday, Lethyl Stark, Amelia Mae Green, Alice May Whitman, Mabel Craig, Esther Swanson, Bessie Maude Murray, Helen Dougherty, Pearl Dougherty, Hazel Mitchell, Lulu Watts, Stella Martin, Garradah Davis and Nathalie Keefe.

Elks Dance.

Twenty-three couples attended the informal dance which was given last night at the Elks Club. The Nebraska Syncopators, a five-piece orchestra from Lincoln, Neb., played.

New Era Class Party.

Members of the New Era class of the Presbyterian Church, taught by Uel W. Lamkin, president of the State Teachers College, enjoyed a social meeting at the church last night. The class was organized a few weeks ago and last night's affair was in the nature of a get-together meeting. The evening was spent in games, after which refreshments were served. About thirty members were present. Miss Mary Lewis is president of the class.

C. C. Club.

A postponed meeting of the C. C. club of the Swallow district was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James McGinness. Roll call was answered by household hints. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in basketry and needlework. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess. The club members gave a shower for James Sherman Heflin, the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Heflin. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Byron Masters and daughter, Beverly Jean, Mrs. Helen Strauch and Miss Lucille Masters. The members present were Mrs. Edward Busby, Mrs. Edison Blagg and daughter, Betty Lee, Mrs. Charles Shamberger, Mrs. Anna Fox, Mrs. J. D. Mutz, Miss Minnie Fox, Mrs. Otis Lyle, Miss Maenora Shamberger and Mrs. James Linthicum. On account of Thanksgiving the next meeting has been postponed until Friday afternoon, Nov. 27, when Mrs. J. D. Mutz will be hostess.

Hazel Dell Social Is Decided Success

The box supper and pie social held at the Hazel Dell school, near Graham, Friday night of last week was a decided success in every way. A good program consisting of dialogues and recitations were given by the school, after which the sale of boxes and pies was conducted by C. U. Gordan.

The sales of boxes and pies, together with the receipts from the voting contests, neted $45.90 for the school. Miss Lois Hartman is the teacher of the Hazel Dell School.

George L. Clark of Hedgesville, Mont., arrived Wednesday for an indefinite visit with his daughter, Mrs. L. L. Gray, and family.

Maryville May Not Be Host To Conference Track Meet In The Spring.

The annual fall meeting of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association will be held Saturday, November 28, in Kansas City, it was announced today by A. W. Briggs, director of athletics at Southwest Missouri State Teachers college, who is president of the state organization. The meeting will be held at the Kansas City Athletic club.

One of the most important questions to be considered is the selection of a place to hold the annual track and field meet of the M. I. A. A. The event is scheduled to be held at Maryville, but H. F. "Shorty" Lawrence, director of athletics at the State Teachers College stated that he wasn't sure Maryville could handle the meet next year as the school would have to construct a new track. It was voted at the last meeting that the school holding the track meet should furnish trophies and officials. The school is also to furnish meals and lodging for the visitors.

The annual election of officers will be held during the coming meeting. The present set of officers are: A. W. Briggs, president; H. L. McWilliams, Kirksville, vice-president; H. F. Lawrence, Maryville, secretary-treasurer.

The last meeting was held in St. Louis, but in the future it has been voted to hold all meetings at the K. C. A. C. in Kansas City.

Basketball schedules for the coming season will be made following the business meeting. A round-robin will be played, but dates have to be arranged. It is probable that all conference football schedules for next year will be completed.

Illinois Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. McLaughlin of Maywood, Ill., who accompanied the body of the latter's mother, Mrs. Mary Bennett, to Bolckow Tuesday morning, came yesterday noon to visit Mrs. McLaughlin's son, Bennett French, and family. Mrs. Caroline Kitterman of Maywood, a sister of Mrs. McLaughlin, came this noon to spend a few days at the French home.

Ohio Guest.

Mrs. C. G. Wrentmore of Sandusky, Ohio, arrived in Maryville yesterday morning to be the guest of her niece Mrs. M. L. Beattie, and Mr. Beattie. Mrs. Wrentmore is also visiting her sister, Mrs. John Price of Bolckow, who is seriously ill.

Roland Wray went to St. Joseph today on business.

College Authorities Say Students Can Do Better Work in School If They Are in Love

By Clark B. Kelsey
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Cleveland, O., Nov. 13.—College love is a tonic for students. Instead of sending their scholastic grades skidding down the scale it drives the marks up, a score of deans of Ohio colleges and universities agreed, in denying the statement of Dean Herbert Hawkes of Columbia University that collegiate love affairs make dumb bells out of good students.

Almost to a man the deans united in stating that Joe College and Cassie Co-ed do better work in the classroom if they have some one who has faith in their intelligence and ability to score scholastically.

Almost unanimously they condemned the practice of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., of expelling any couple that dares to marry while still within the classic halls of education.

Dean Frank Chandler of Cincinnati University told the United Press that a man in love wants to "make good for a girl."

Josephine Small, dean of women at the same school, said, "falling in love spurs a student on to do better work, whether it be man or woman."

Dean J. Lee Richmond of Toledo University was one of the leaders in declaring that a "hot romance" fires a collegian into gathering a flock of high grades.

"No college man wants to appear to be a dumbbell when some Flossy Co-ed believes his mentality is just about the highest in these United States," the Dean explained.

"A man improves in his studies, his appearance and his disposition when he finds some one to take an interest in his career," he continued.

Lack of application, not love, is the cause of college failures according to Miss Mary I. Park, Dean of Women at Heidelberg University. "Heidelberg men and co-eds go to school to work, not to make love to each other," Miss Park says.

"It is largely a matter of who the students are and how deeply they fall in love and how seriously it interferes with their time," according to Dr. W. H. Guyer, president of Findlay College.

"Western Reserve University holds no prejudice against married students," Dean W. G. Leutner asserted. Number of students in the professional schools are married and their wives keep house for them on the campus near the class halls.

High School Gridders Ready for Lafayette

Final Work-out, Taken This Afternoon, Was Light Before The Game Tomorrow.

While the State Teachers College Bearcats were playing Springfield this afternoon, the Maryville High School football team was taking its final light work-out preparatory to the Lafayette game of tomorrow. Kicking, passing, and running signals comprised the practice today, Coach W. H. Herbert holding his men down.

"We are confident that they will make a better showing this week than last," he commented today. "This week has enabled us to get in the full quota of practice periods and the boys are not suffering from the handicap of a week's lay-off."

Coach Herbert has made several changes in his line-up for the game with the St. Joseph team on the College field tomorrow, and he believes that these changes will strengthen his machine appreciably.

Iowa Highway No. 18 May Be Made Gravel

Page County people are interested in the preliminary report coming from the meeting Tuesday of the Iowa Highway Commission in conference with Governor Hammil, the names of eight east and west and five north and south roadways being suggested to be graveled out of the four million dollar a year fund the highway commission will have to spend, and possibly another cent tax put on the present 2 cent a gallon gasoline tax. Among those roadways is named No. 18 primary, that comes down through Atlantic, through Villisca, Clarinda and Braddyville. No. 8 east and West from Villisca is also on the list. A three years program is suggested, as after that there may be additional money to spend on the roads, and some paving perhaps can then be done, reducing the upkeep cost that gravel always has, and taking less gas to send the car or truck over the roadway.—Clarinda Herald.

Iowa Highway No. 18, is to be part of Federal Highway No. 71, which passes through Maryville. Citizens of Clearmont and vicinity have been especially interested in the connection of the Missouri and Iowa road system at Braddyville.

"Don Q, Son of Zorro" Is Excellent Picture

"Don Q, Son of Zorro," the Douglas Fairbanks picture showing at the State Teachers College this week-end is dramatic, dashing, and decidedly worth-seeing. Fairbanks is perfect in his role. He makes his fans wait a long time for his picture releases, but this one was worth waiting for.

The setting for the picture is excellent and the acting is superior.

"Don Q" will be shown again tonight and tomorrow night.

Rev. S. P. Allison Talks to Eurekans On "Patriotism" Yesterday Afternoon.

J. R. Wallin paid a tribute to America for her part in closing the world-wide conflict and to the American soldiers abroad for their work "over there," in a speech on "Significance of Armistice Day" before the Philomathean Literary Society yesterday afternoon.

He traced the beginnings of the conflict and then pointed out that for more than four years all of the surplus energy of humanity went into the conflict. "What would this energy, turned into peaceful channels, have done for civilization?" he asked.

His solution for protection against future war was to intellectualize the world, educate social leaders, and apply the principles of social science.

Things that are recalled to our memory by Armistice Day, was the theme of the Rev. S. P. Allison's talk on "Patriotism" at the Eurekan Literary Society at the College yesterday. He also pointed out the opportunity for spending money for other things rather than in its expenditure for war.

Other numbers on the program were Song, "America," society; vocal solos, "Rose of Picardy" and "Nuthin,'" Miss Jewell Gose; reading, "When Poppies Bloom in Flander Field," Miss Cleta McCoy.

"It is the challenge of teachers to train the boy and girl of today to be patriotic citizens of tomorrow," said Miss Allie Horn a member of the Excelsior Literary Society during a patriotic program given yesterday.

Mrs. Maude Martin thought that there was a great opportunity in the local community for a citizen. Orville Pugsley believed that the schools show a good example of patriotism by developing world patriotism.

Other numbers on the program were:

Song, "America the Beautiful"
Song, "Star Spangled Banner."
Piano solo, "Light of the Moon" Miss Zona Hoyt.

Around Our Town

And now we are back to King Tut. After all the time spent on him, it is believed that he was just a 16-year-old boy. Probably more has been written about him than any other boy in his teens in history. And likely more money was spent burying him than ever was spent on man before.

Garland White, with his sunny smile and breezy personality is back in Maryville. Mr. White came to Maryville to confer with Homer Croy on the marketing of some fiction.

There are three big things going on in connection with the same thing today. In the first place, there is a football game between Maryville and Springfield. In the second place, it is a game for the championship of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association. And in the third place, it is being broadcast over radio.

And then there is another factor, one which displays true sportsmanship. And that is that almost all of the Maryville merchants are closing their places of business for the game. This action alone will do more to cement a true feeling than anything else.

A young man, asking his employer for a raise a few days ago, received—so he tells me—the following pointed reply: "Why do you want a raise? There are 365 days in a year; you work eight hours a day and that is 122. There are 52 Sundays in a year and you get them off, and that leaves 70 days; there are 14 holidays, which leaves you 54 days; you take a hour off for lunch, which makes 14 days, which leaves you 40 days; you get Saturday afternoons off, which makes 26 days, which leaves you 14 days, and I give you two weeks' vacation each year—when in h—l do you work, anyway?"

Two Men Arrested on Bank Robbery Charge

One Of Stanberry Suspects Talked Too Much, Says Sheriff—Other Found In Kansas City.

Two men have been arrested and are being kept in separate jails on suspicion of being the robbers who looted the Commercial Bank of Stanberry on October 14. They are Fred Shaffer and Estil Wilson, both of Stanberry.

Sheriff Paul Brown of Gentry County yesterday took Shaffer to Albany. Shaffer was arrested in Kansas City Tuesday night and he was brought to St. Joseph Wednesday.

With the arrest of Shaffer Sheriff Brown expressed the belief that the robbery had been solved.

Robbers Got $1,404.03.

Sheriff Brown said that the robbery, which was staged at night, netted $1,404.03. Entrance to the bank vault was gained by using drills and hammers.

The first arrest was made Monday night when Wilson was taken into custody.

"Wilson was drinking and talked too freely," Sheriff Brown said. "He implicated Shaffer and we asked the Kansas City police to pick him up."

The sheriff said he had not questioned Shaffer, but would talk to him when he reached Albany.

Owing to Stanberry's many bank troubles, little information was given out concerning the robbery until yesterday. Within the last year two banks at Stanberry failed, but one of them later was reorganized. For a time the Commercial Bank was the only financial institution in operation at that place.

The top of the Commercial Bank's vault, Sheriff Brown stated, was made of brick and cement, making it comparatively easy to gain entrance with the necessary tools.

One Suspect A Blacksmith.

Since his arrest, Wilson has denied any knowledge of the robbery. He maintains that he was under the influence of liquor and was merely repeating what he had heard on the streets of Stanberry. According to Sheriff Brown, Shaffer stated he did not even know the bank had been robbed. He had been in Kansas City at the Workman's Hotel for the past two weeks and working there as a blacksmith.

The two prisoners will be kept separated. Wilson will be taken this afternoon to Bethany, where he will be kept in custody until the time for the preliminary hearing. Shaffer will be held in Albany.

What Nodaway County Churches Are Doing

Church Building Day Observed at First M. E.

"Church Building Day," will be observed Sunday at the First M. E. Sunday School. At the morning services at 10:45 o'clock Dr. C. C. James will preach on "The Victory of Faith." The subject for the evening sermon will be "Running After the Youth." Mrs. C. C. Leeson will be in charge of the Epworth League service at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening. The subject for discussion will be "Why Am I a Christian?" Frayer meeting will be held Wednesday evening.

Christian Bible Class Grows in Popularity

The Men's Bible Class of the First Christian Church is steadily gaining in membership and interest. The class meets in the I. O. O. F. hall at 9:30 o'clock every Sunday morning. The Rev. R. E. Musgrave is the teacher of the class. Special musical numbers and other features are given every Sunday. The general Bible school also meets at 9:30 o'clock, and there are classes for all ages. "The Extinguished Torch" is the subject of the sermon by the Rev. Mr. Musgrave at the morning services, and "Our Lord's Attitude Toward Sin" is the subject of the evening sermon. The two endeavor societies meet at 6:30 o'clock.

"Mortals and Immortals" Scientist Subject

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject for discussion at the Sunday morning services of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, which begins at 11 o'clock. The Wednesday evening service will be held at 8 o'clock. The reading room is open from 3 to 5 o'clock Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. The public is cordially invited to these services and to the reading room. Sunday school is held each Sunday at 9:45 o'clock.

Biblical Characters Will Be Discussed

"Changeless Realities in a Changing World" will be the sermon subject of the Rev. S. P. Allison at the Presbyterian Church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock the Rev. Mr. Allison will start a group of character studies entitled "Bible Epitaphs." The Bible very often sums up the lives of its characters in one single, crisp comment. In these character studies these comments or epitaphs will be used as the key to the lives of the men and women. While this will be a related group of sermons, each one will be complete in itself.

The new choir, under the direction of Bernhardt Bronson will make its first appearance Sunday morning. They have been at work for several weeks getting a repetoire started, and will now sing every Sunday morning. "Oh Lord How Manifold" by Rogers, will be the anthem for next Sunday morning. Some twenty five voices are now signed up and rehearsing, with more who will join in the near future. Miss Helen Todd is president of the choir; Miss Minnie Evans is the secretary and Harold Braun is the librarian.

Mitchell to Preach at Thanksgiving Services

The annual Thanksgiving service this year will be held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 25, at the Christian Church. The Rev. R. A. Mitchell of the M. E. Church, South, will deliver the sermon. The Christian Church will plan the music. The other pastors will have a part on the program. The offering will go to the Welfare Board. The Welfare Board is asked to give a report at this service and some statement of probable needs for this season's work.

Missionary Will Speak at Baptist Church Here

Two hundred and thirty-seven persons were in attendance at the Baptist Sunday school last Sunday. Forty were in the Men's Class. The Rev. C. C. Marriott of Chinkiang, China, will speak to the men for a few minutes Sunday, telling of some of his experiences in China, where he has spent fifteen years. He will also give a short address to the members of the College class.

The missionary will deliver the sermon at the morning service, which starts at 11 o'clock. His subject will be "China and the Chinese." Members of the B. Y. P. U. will meet at 6:30 o'clock. At the evening services at 7:30 o'clock, the Rev. Guy L. Prather will preach on the subject "The Onward Impulse."

I AM AN AMERICAN CITIZEN

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Lesson for November 15, 1925.

Read Acts 21.

Wm. Southern, Jr.

"I am a Roman citizen," said Saint Paul when, shortly after his arrival in Jerusalem, he was about to be flogged by Roman soldiers. He was torn and ragged and bleeding. He had just escaped the hands of a crazy mob. All mobs are crazy.

"What's that?" Captain Claudius Lysias said, as he held up his hand for silence. He could not believe his ears. He himself was a Roman citizen and had paid a high price for his citizenship," repeated Paul. "I am Roman born. Is it lawful to scourage a man that is a Roman and uncondemned?" The effect was immediate. The captain revoked the order of scourging and took Paul away from the angry mob.

These words undoubtedly saved Paul's life and started him on his way to Rome. His ambitions for years had been to go to Rome, but he did not expect to go in chains.

"I am an American citizen," we announce proudly when we are away from home and sometimes we brag about it so much that it disgusts those about us of other nations. If you are ever in trouble in other lands the first place you demand to be taken is to the house of the American representative and when you stand beneath the American flag as an American citizen you feel that you are safe. Paul was as proud of being a Roman citizen as you are of being an American citizen.

Paul got into trouble by accepting the timid advice of his friends when he arrived in Jerusalem and by compromising. I never did think much of Henry Clay, who was known as the greatest compromiser. When he reached Jerusalem after the eventful journey from Miletus, Paul was welcomed by the Jewish Christians. He rested for seven days, the time required for the ritual of purification, and made his report. He told of his wanderings and the new churches and turned over to the treasurer the money he had Trophimus had brought from the new Gentile churches in Asia and Europe. The Jewish Christians did not approve of the Gentiles as Christians, but I find nothing in the record which indicates Christian Gentiles sent to them by Trophimus.

The Jewish Christians had to receive Paul because the great council had endorsed his work among the Gentiles, but they were not very enthusiastic about it. There were many, who still considered Paul a heretic and refused to accept the judgment of the council. So it happened that Paul's friends advised him to go publicly to the temple with three young Jews who were entitled to enter into the ceremonies and to do this. Long ago he had passed through these ceremonies, but he consented.

That part of the temple court where Gentiles were permitted was separated from an inner court where they could not come. During the seven days before the temple incident his enemies had seen him on the streets with Trophimus, a young Gentile Christian from Ephesus. When they saw him in the inner court going through the ceremonies with three strangers they at once jumped at the conclusion that he had brought Gentiles into the temple, which was a grave offense.

Then the trouble broke. Paul was siezed and the charges that he had violated the sanctity of the temple made. This was enough. The crowd became frantic. They dragged Paul into the outer court and shut the door. "Kill him," shouted the maddened Jews.

Quartered in a tower nearby was captain Claudius Lysias in charge of a company of Roman soldiers. He called for his men to come on and ran to the disturbance, shoving aside the mob until at the very center he caught hold of Paul and protected him with his body. Having rescued Paul from certain death the Captain turned to the Jews demanded to know what it was all about. The mob roared, all talking at once and the officer could make head nor tail of it. He was much surprised when his prisioner quietly said in Greek, "May I say something to thee?" Paul then told the captain that he would like to address the mob and, receiving permission with the soldiers standing around, he stood, his clothing torn and his face bleeding, hushed the crowd with a gesture and began to speak.

Paul did not plead for his life. Remarkable man that he was he took this chance to preach his gospel to them. He told them first that he was a Jew, that he had studied in this very temple at the feet of their great sage Gamaliel, that he had persecuted the Christians, how he was converted and what he was doing. Then he told them about the Gentiles and the mob went wild again.

Captain Lysias then carried Paul away and locked him up. He was about to have his scourged as was the custom before hearing, when Jews were arrested. Then Paul uttered the words, "I am a Roman citizen."

Captain Lysias arranged for Paul to be heard by the Sanhedrin. This hearing accomplished nothing. While he was waiting for trial a nephew told him of a plot to kill him and Captain Lysias, who had talked often with Paul and had come to admire and like him, reported to the authorities and they sent Paul to the governor of Judea, Felix atCaesarea. Thus was Paul started on his way to Rome, where he wrote much of the book we now know as the New Testament in the form of letters.

We are more intolerant in religious matters than we are in anything else. We get an idea into our heads which we call our religion and when anybody comes forward and attempts to show that we are wrong we go crazy. Not only that, but we refuse to hear or consider the evidence, refuse to accept history and accredited facts and become a part of a mob ready to crucify the one who has dared to disagree with us.

The Jews were going to kill Paul because he took Trophimus, a gentile, beyond the sacred doors, when as a matter of fact Trophimus was not there at all, he was probably at a restaurant trying out Jerusalem eats, while the mob was busy.

I believe there are many things pertaining to our religion, which God gives us to know in our hearts and, which we can not prove by mathematics. But I also believe that He wants us to go as far as we can, to use our minds, the minds and reasoning power He has given us.

The mind of a Christian should be the fairest, the most considerate, the most ready to hear reason and to listen to testimony. That is what God gave us minds for. He does not expect us to be blind followers of blind fanatics.

General Lesson Title—Paul's Arrest in Jerusalem.

Scripture Lesson—Acts 21:17 to 22. 30. (Acts 21:27-39 printed).

27. And when the seven days were almost completed, the Jews from Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the multitude and laid hands on him.

28. Crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man that teacheth all men everywhere against the people, and the law, and this place; and moreover he brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath defiled this holy place.

29. For they had before seen with him in the city Trophimus, the Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.

30. And all the city was moved, and the people ran together; and they laid hold on Paul, and dragged him out of the temple; and straightway the doors were shut.

31. And as they were seeking to kill him, tidings came up to the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in confusion.

32. And forwith he took soldiers and centurions, and ran down upon them; and they, when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, left off beating Paul.

33. Then the chief captain came near, and laid hold on him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and inquired who he was, and what he had done.

34. And some shouted one thing, some another, among the crowd; and when he could not know the certainty for the uproar, he commanded him to be brought into the castle.

35. And when he came upon the stairs, so it was that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the crowd.

36. For the multitude of the people followed after, crying out: Away with him.

37. And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he saith unto the chief captain, may I say something unto thee? And he said, doest thou know Greek?

38. Art thou not then the Egyptian, who before these days stirred up to sedition and led out into the wilderness the four thousand men of the Assassins?

39. But Paul said, I am a Jew, of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city; and I beseech thee, give me leave to speak unto the people.

Golden Text—If a man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed.—1 Peter 4. 16.

Churches Are Essential

"No great civilization has ever outlasted the demise of its religious faith."—Harry Emerson Fosdick.

"A City of Homes and Schools" is Maryville's favorite description of herself.

Without religion, without churches to keep religion alive and active, who would choose Maryville as a place to rear their family?

Without churches, the young folks who come to our college could not receive a fully rounded education. A good church town is the best possible college town.

Without churches actively putting the teachings of Christ into the lives of the new generations in home, school and college, our nation can never rise to full greatness. More than that, she canot even maintain her boasted position as "The world's greatest and most enlightened nation."

Our churches are our surest guarantee for joy, happiness, strength, courage, and prosperity. They restrain the wrong. They energize the good. The minister in sorrow and doubt. The churches of Maryville and Nodaway County are our best asset.

You need the church. Your community needs the church. Church attendance helps you. Your attendance helps the church.

Start regular church attendance Sunday.

To Tell What Good Man Means to World

"The Treasury Test" will be the subject of the sermon by the Rev. R. A. Mitchell, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, at the services at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning. The choir will sing the anthem, "Be Joyful in the Lord." Sunday school will be held at 9:40 o'clock. T. H. Leet is superintendent and there are classes for all ages. All young people are given a cordial invitation to Epworth League services at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening. The evening gospel service begins at 7:30 o'clock. "The Value of a Good Man" is th subject. The public is welcome to all services.

Two Good Services at Elmo M. E. Church

ELMO METHODIST CHURCH

(By Edgar O. Wells, Minister).

Two excellent services, marked the day of snow and cold last Sunday with small attendance at both Sunday School and church, but some people are brave, because they come of the pioneer stock, and some are very brave when there is a crowd, and some are brave because they were born into a kingdom over which there is a king who hath led his people through the centuries, and has been found in the vanguard, and when they sing, "Where He Leads I'll Follow," they never took into consideration, whether they were to follow oxen, horses, gasoline in auto, or airplane, and we have known many who walked, and thanked God for the privilege, and the way has never been crowded with walkers. However, never mind how you get there, come next Sunday, and hear the sermon on, "One Fold, One Shepherd," at the morning hour. Night, "Fulfilling the Promise of Youth."

We missed quite a number who were absent on account of sickness, who will probably be present, the coming Sunday, and these, together with those whom you will bring will help to swell the number. Let's make it a record day. Both morning and evening hours will remain until further notice.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet next week, with Mrs. Helen Pruitt, and they always have a large crowd when they meet there. Now beloved, we are looking toward the time "of refreshing from the presence of the Lord," and it is a time for prayer and consecration. Who will be found "In the secret place of the most high?" Let us with one accord, say I. "I."

ABOUT CHURCH NEWS.

All ministers of Nodaway County are invited and urged to send in news for the weekly church page in the Democrat-Forum and Tribune.

The church news, however, must reach this office not later than 8 a. m., every Friday. It would be greatly appreciated if the news could be in by Thursday evening each week.

The Democrat-Forum and Tribune wants to make this church page a regular feature each week, but the co-operation of all ministers is needed.

Why Go To Church?

(By the Rev. R. E. Musgrave, pastor of the First Christian Church).

The church is a religious home, a sanctuary for worship, a school for religious instruction, a fighting unit for a new world that is building. It is the most broadening organization among men. Its vision is to the ends of the world whither the gospel is being carried. Does not such an institution appeal to you?

Prominent Worker at Sunday School Meet

Prof. Walter S. Athearn of Boston University Is On Proram For Gathering In Kansas City.

D. C. Boyd, General Secretary of the Missouri Sunday School Council of Religious Education has just announced that Professor Walter S. Athearn, Dean of the School of Religious Education, Boston University, has been secured as one of the chief speakers for the Missouri State Sunday School Convention to be held November 17-20, at Kansas City. In addition to Dr. Athearn, Professor H. Augustine Smith, Professor of Music and Pageantry of Boston University, will be present to lead the worship programs.

Dr. Athearn is one of America's foremost exponents of higher ideals in religious education according to Mr. Boyd. In his book "The Church School," says Boyd, Dr. Athearn set standards which have now become generally accepted in all progressive schools.

One of Dr. Athearn's most notable pieces of work was his direction of what is known as the Indiana Survey in which hitherto unknown and unsuspected facts regarding the religious illiteracy of the people in a great commonwealth were revealed. This work has had a far-reaching affect on the program adopted by the leading Protestant denominations.

Professor H. Augustine Smith is a recognized authority in the field of religious music and dramatics. He has directed the Convention music for the last five Missouri Sunday School Conventions, and has presented three of his own pageants. During the Convention at Kansas City, Dr. Smith will present a new pageant "The World at Prayer."

At the mass sessions of the Convention Dr. Smith will give a series of Hymn Book Studies on the topics "Hymns of God's Wonder World," and "Hymns of Human Service and Brotherhood."

A special feature of the Convention states Boyd again, will be the "Temple of Fine Arts"—a collection of reproductions of great religious paintings which require 500 lineal feet of wall space to display. A number of lectures will be given on "The Temple of Fine Arts."

Rally Day Program at Harmony Postponed

The weather gods were in league against us and our services Sunday, but there was an enthusiastic crowd out for Sunday school and church Sunday morning. Though many of the teachers were absent, our faithful superintendent was present and we managed to accommodate all present. The subject discussed at the church service was based on Isa. 1:16-17. The present day trend among leaders and teachers; also the place of the teacher and learner were emphasized.

Miss Maude Kibbe, of Grant City, who is instructing our orchestha, attended church services Sunday morning and kindly consented to play a special number, which every one enjoyed very much. Miss Kibbe is a good musician and we hope to have her with us often.

The Promotion and Rally Day Program was postponed and will probably be given next Sunday, November 15. All children in this program will please be present next Saturday afternoon for rehearsal.

The Father's and Son's banquet is planned for and will be given in the basement of the church soon.

The Ladies' Annual bazaar and banquet will be held Thanksgiving afternoon and evening. They will serve a chicken pie supper. The following committees were appointed to serve at this festival:

Committee on Eats.

Mrs. E. E. Saunders, Mrs. A. B. Strader, Mrs. J. F. Flanary, Mrs. Fanning.

Decoration Committee.

Mrs. Helen Porter, Mrs. Vera Kelly, Miss Naomie Singery, Mrs. Ova Heflin.

Coffee Committee.

Mrs. Mattie Lawson, Mrs. Elmer Mckee.

Committee On Deserts.

Mrs. Bessie Castell, Mrs. W. I. Lewis, Mrs. Joe Woodburn, Mrs. Lucy Rhodes.

Committee on Booths and Marking Art.

Mrs. Estella Porter, Mrs. Lottie Wells, Mrs. Alta Edwards, Mrs. M. S. Casteel.

Committee on Fish Pond.

Mrs. J. G. Harbison, Mrs. Viola Lawson.

Noted Sunday School Worker at Meeting

Dr. Paul H. Vieth Will Have Part On Program Of Mo. Sunday School Convention Next Week.

Dr. Paul H. Vieth, formerly General Secretary of the Missouri Sunday School Council of Religious Education, has been secured to take part on the program of the Sixtieth Annual Missouri Sunday School Convention to be held November 17-20, at Kansas City. Dr. Vieth has just recently completed graduate work at Yale University in the field of religious education. He is now Director of Research and Service for the International Sunday School Council of Religious Education at Chicago, financed by the Rockefeller Foundation.

According to H. W. Becker, Adult Superintendent for the Missouri Sunday School Council, little has been done in a scientific way to determine the value of certain methods used in the Sunday School, and of various types of lesson material. The lesson committee of the Internationall S. S. Council is asking Dr. Vieth to test the teaching value of the lesson courses now available. From these discoveries will be built a new curriculum of religious education providing for adequate, correlated instruction and expressional activities for both Sundays and week days.

At the Kansas City meeting Dr. Vieth will speak on the subjects, "The New Program of Religious Education" "The Adult Division of a County Council" and an inspirational address, "Our Father's Business.

Too Much Efficiency

By E. J. Rath (W. J. Watt and Co.)

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

JOHN W. BROOKE, widower and hardware magnate, arranges with a firm of efficiency engineers to manage his home for a period of two months that he will be away. He fails to impart his plans to his three grown children, Constance, Billy and Alice. They are very unpleasantly surprised when H. HEDGE, efficiency engineer, takes over the cares of running the Brooke mansion. Hedge has made himself at home in the private suite of John W. and turned the library into an office. He cut off the allowance of Billy and Constance because they refused to go to work, but permitted Alice to draw one-half her usual amount because she is still going to school.

Constance, ready to quit a losing fight against efficiency, attempts to elope but is stopped by Hedge. She then reconsiders her refusal to work and becomes Hedge's secretary. This reinstates 50 per cent of her allowance. Alice and Billy are furious because Constance has apparently gone over to the enemy. They unburden their thoughts today while taking their daily dozen in the gymnasium.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"She's quit us," said Billy. "I hate to say it, but what else can you make out of it?"

"Nothing," admitted Alice.

"Have you said anything to her about it?" asked Billy, after a pause.

Alice shook her head.

"I was hoping it wouldn't last," she said. "I thought maybe Connie just needed a little money very badly, and that after she got it she'd come back on our side again. So I haven't said a word. But she seems to be worse than ever now."

"He was reading to her out of a book this afternoon," growled Billy. "Something about cutting out lost motion. What do you know about it?"

Alice sighed and made a helpless gesture.

"It leaves us out on a limb," continued Billy. "It was three against one until this started; now it's fifty-fifty. How can we expect to win out?"

"We can't—alone. Connie isn't fair."

"Do you notice the way they talk together at the table, just as if we weren't there? You'd think they'd get enough of each other in the library. But they're not satisfied with that. I tell you, we're not getting a square deal!"

"Well, what can we do, Billy?"

He kicked a medicine-ball half way across the gymnasium floor and strode over to a window, as if he might discover a solution by staring out at the world.

* * *

There was consternation below stairs. Mary wrapped her hands in her apron and sat staring moodily at the floor.

"Wurrkin,' " she muttered. 'She's thot desprit thot she's wurrkin'! The poor child! An' wurrkin' for him!"

"A shame!" said Elvira.

Mary looked up quickly.

"A shame, say ye? An' by what right do you say things like thot? Who are ye to be sayin' 'tis a shame for the young misthree to do annything?"

"But, you said yourself—"

L'ave be," commanded Mary sternly. 'Whin ye've been in this house eighteen years there's things ye can say, an' whin ye've been here tin years there's things ye can't say. Kape yer place, Elvira, an' be puttin' no shame on Miss Connie."

Elvira pursed her lips primly and fell silent.

"Ay," said Mary after a heavy pause, " 'tis a shame to be seein' the poor child wurrkin' the inds av her fingers off, hour in an' hour out! 'Tis typewritin' he has her, too—the scut! The poor dear, thryin' to punch kays, like me thryin' to punch a clock. 'Tis the divil's shame."

Elvira kept her peace, mildly wondering at the inequality of privilege in speech.

"The man has a heart av stone," announced Mary presently.

"He's a wicked man," assented Elvira.

"Wicked, is it? Niver let me hear ye say thot again. 'Tis a sin to be sittin' in judgmint, Elvira. He's ejicated, which is more nor you an' me, an' he's a gintleman born. 'Tis wicked av ye to call him wicked."

Mary devoted another period to gloomy reflection.

" 'Tis wicked crool the way he dhrives her," she declared presently.

There was something approaching consternation upstairs as well. Although Alice and Billy watched the campaign and kept the great secret, their misgivings of final success were not to be easily allayed. Their own fate so directly involved that frequent reconnoissances were necessary.

Alice proved to be the most efficient spy. She reported to Billy on a number of occasions that the relations between H. Hedge and his secretary were of the most cordial character.

Alice was impatient at repeated evidences of amicable hours between the chief plotter and the victim. She still had confidence in her sister, who usually achieved what she set out to perform; but it seemed to Alice that the patience of Constance was something more than human.

Billy was less persistent in his observations, but such as he made were to the same general effect. Once, he resolved, for the sake of a better opportunity to watch the battle, that he would assume his clerkship. But the resolution melted away when he tried to steel himself for the final degradation. He told himself it was not a horror of work per se; merely a shrinking from work per Hedge.

A most extraordinary day came when Constance, having been excessively diligent during a whole forenoon, remarked after luncheon that, if Mr. Hedge did not absolutely require her assistance for a few hours, she would attend to some matters of shopping.

The efficiency man not only gave a ready consent, but he went to the amazing length of suggesting that he also had certain errands which called him outside the house, and suggested that he "might be permitted" to accompany her as far as the paths coincided. Might be permitted!

Constance could with difficulty believe her ears. He was delivering himself into her hands! Could he go shopping with her? He could—and a radiant smile went with the permission.

The occasion, being of a momentous character, required the services of the Brooke limousine. Alice, from an upper window, witnessed their departure, which was effected with the fully expeditionary escort of chauffeur and footman. She stared until the big car disappeared from sight down the avenue, then flunk herself weakly into a big chair and indulged in a long period of thought.

Constance began the campaign with feints intended to conceal major operations, and at the same time to test the resistance of the enemy. Gloves were a feint, for instance. The enemy followed her into the glove shop. He did not intend to be obtrusive, but he appeared to be interested in gloves. He watched the selection closely; once he made a suggestion, which was, of course, accepted on the spot.

Constance laid aside several pairs, after a deliberate examination of many dozen, and then casually inquired the price. She frowned doubtfully when the amount was mentioned.

"So much?" she murmured, in a surprised tone. "Wait, please."

Followed then an examination of the contents of her purse. It was not by any means an empty purse, for Constance had been saving her daily allowance, chiefly because diligence as an efficiency secretary had afforded the opportunity for spending. The examination resulted in a shake of the head. She could buy the gloves easily; but there were other things to buy.

With an almost inaudible sigh she lifted four pairs of gloves from the aproved selections and handed them back to the clerk.

Among them, perhaps merely by chance, was the pair concerning which H. Hedge had displayed interest.

"I will take the remainder," she said.

The efficiency man gave a brisk shake of his head, reached for the condemned gloves, and placed them back on the pile.

"We have an account here," he remarked. "The gloves may be charged."

Constance was not quite sure whether she was surprised or not. She was always somewhat fearful of initial success.

"I expected to pay for them," she said meekly, still fumbling her purse.

"Charge the gloves," commanded H. Hedge sharply, addressing the clerk. "Wrap them up."

Constance closed her purse with seeming reluctance.

"Why—thank you," she said.

"I see no need," he answered. "There is an account here, is there not?"

"But—"

Constance checked herself, wondering if it were wise to finish the sentence.

"But what?"

"We should have brought the standardization book and the requisition blanks," she faltered.

The efficiency man eyed her narrowly, but her face was impassive.

"The records can be made out when we return home," he answered in a faintly annoyed tone. "I shall keep a memorandum."

Whereupon he put down six pairs of gloves, making use of a small loose-leaf note-book that was his inseparable companion.

NEXT CHAPTER: Hedge walks the plank.

Retain Poise as Murder Trial Opens

Displaying no traces of emotion, Mrs. Clara Harcq, above, and her youthful-appearing step-father, Arthur Holt, below, went on trial in Waukegan, Ill., for the murder of Mrs. Lillian Holt, her mother and his wife. The state charges they were enamoured of one another. On trial with them is Albert Harcq, Mrs. Harcq's husband, who is held to have had knowledge of the alleged plot.

Bribed, They Go to Prison

These two Los Angeles councilmen were convicted of accepting a $2,000 bribe for their votes on a traction measure and have been sent to prison for one to ten years. Left to right, they are "Big Joe" Fitzpatrick and Charlie Downs. The photo shows them in their prison garb.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store. (adv)

Under your fingers

A World's Fair spreads itself quietly before you—the spectacular improvements that are blazoned across the years, and the little day-by-day improvements that give you new comforts and conveniences for a dime, a quarter, a dollar.

Daily, through the advertising columns of this paper, you can view the gleaming counters and show windows of world marts. Without effort you can pass from one display to another; without lifting an article, be certain of its worth.

If you read the advertisements you read of goods worthy of a nation's notice—goods held up for a nation to examine. You read of dependable goods that give solid value, that help you save.

You can put your confidence into the widely advertised, for they carry their own guarantee of satisfaction. That satisfaction is the "how" of them.

Read the advertisements to spend safely—to be sure of goods that please. Take advantage of these daily diplays.

Advertising brings to your home news of comforts and conveniences of proven worth.

O. G. NULL

Mrs. Frank Rickman and baby daughter of St. Joseph, visited this week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Lock of Huron, South Dakota, arrived here last Saturday for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wagner, parents of Mrs. Lock and with Mr. Lock's brothers, John, Will, Sheridan and Charley.

Curtis Boatwright went to Conway Tuesday evening where he will take charge of a barber shop belonging to some Conway parties.

Mrs. Clayton Speer and son, of Sioux City, Ia., left for their home Thursday after a few days visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. McMillen.

Elmer Hornbuckle, manager of the Farmers Exchange at this place, went to St. Joseph on Thursday to visit his brother, James Hornbuckle, of Barnard, who is in a hospital in St. Joseph. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Anna Hornbuckle of Maryville.

Heman Sears of Lone Valley neighborhood has been sick for the past month at his home, and on account of his advanced age his recovery is considered as doubtful.

The funeral of Mrs. Chas. Buzzard which was held at the Christian Church at this place on Thursday was attended by a large crowd of her former neighbors and friends in that community. Mrs. Buzzard was reared in this vicinity and was known and esteemed by a large circle of acquaintances. Mr. Buzzard and his family have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

The snow which fell last Saturday made the fields so soft that little head way has been made in corn husking this week. Many farmers complain of their corn still being too green and sappy to crib and have not yet begun husking. The roads have been in a very bad condition all week also—as a result of the snow but are improving with each of the bright sunny days and will soon be in passable condition if the fair weather continues.

BUNKER HILL

Mr. and Mrs. Fish White motored to Grant City on Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reavis of Maryville visited at the A. A. Thummel home Sunday. Miss Opal returned with them for a weeks stay in Maryville.

Joe Parker and family moved last Friday to the Simon Davis farm north of us. This is in the Reddick district.

We are very sorry indeed to lose our four scholars, Misses Avis, Mabel, Velma and Dorothy Parker.

Fish White is husking corn for Alva Porch.

Ora Rauch and George Rauch are husking corn.

Willie Dukes visited during the week-end with his brother, Tom Dukes and family.

Mrs. Alva Porch and daughter, Dorothy, who have been on the sick list are much better at this writing.

On account of bad roads our teacher, Mrs. Margie Morris is boarding this week.

LITTLE BRICK ITEMS.

Frank Walker shipped a carload of fat hogs to St. Joseph Friday.

At the school fair held in Burlington Junction, Nov. 11, Little Brick won three prizes; they were: First in penmanship, second in health posters and third in handwork.

Madeline Younger is secretary for the Hot Lunch Club for the month of November.

BEDISON

The recent rain and snow has greatly retarded corn husking as it is quite a task to get out enough to feed on, and several are having to move what they have already cribbed on account of molding.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kidder and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ambrose were Maryville callers Friday.

A. A. Schaffer was a business caller at Barnard one day last week.

C. C. Smith lost a horse this week.

Burnett Straighter who has been assisting Chas. Roach with his corn nusking returned to his home last week.

The box and pie supper here last Wednesday night was very well attended. Quite a nice sum was realized.

Morse Bryant was calling on friends in Stanberry Sunday.

Edd Jenson has just completed a fine new hen house.

Miss Jessie Roach who is attending the State Teachers College spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Roach.

Mrs. Carl Swearingen spent Friday afternoon at the A. A. Schaffer home.

Frank Myers new house will soon be completed.

Mrs. Kent Colter was a caller one day last week at the Lee Wynn home.

There will be a Parent-Teachers meeting at the schoolhouse Friday afternoon. A program is being prepared.

Bob Allen and Lee Wynn assisted Joe Myers in killing a beef Tuesday.

Kennett—The Lions Club here recently adopted a resolution calling attention of the state highway commission to alleged poor roads throughout the county and asking that the roads be repaired immediately.

Flapjack King?

Big Bill Tilden, famous tennis star, tossed aside his racquet for the well known fork at a gathering of the Breakfast Club of Hollywood, Calif., where the champion is reported to have set a new record for eating flapjacks. Here he's shown tugging away at one. Yes, he seems to enjoy it.

CLOSING GRAIN REVIEW.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Sharp advances were secured in corn on the Board of Trade today. Coarse grains were fractionally higher in sympathy.

Final profit taking threatened to obliterate sensational gains in wheat. It succeeded, however, in cutting almost in half the day's net profits. General buying featured major portions of the session. Scramble by shorts to reinstate, lent a feverish aspect.

Corn was higher with wheat. Some early buying was attributed to wet weather and retarded husking. Locals sold late but offers were well absorbed.

Oats went up fractionaliy with other grains.

Provisions gained a few points with hogs and grains. Increased offers sliced values a little toward the end.

Missouri Notes
(United Press)

Jefferson City—The Missouri Republican Editorial Association will meet here November 20 and 21. Efforts are being made to have either Secretary of War Davis or Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio address the meeting.

Bloomfield—Ernest Snider, young farmer, is out on bond pending trial on a charge of attempting to wreck a Frisco train near Link. Train crews had complained of heavy piles being laid over the tracks near Link and Snider was arrested on the charge.

Independence—The merchants here have voted to repeat the Christmas festival inaugurated in 1924. Plans are being made for this year's affair.

Lutesville—Mining activities are expected to be resumed here inasmuch as arrangements have been made to open up the clay mill there.

Moberly—Winter wheat in Northeast Missouri is in bad shape according to County Farm Agent John Howat. Cold and damp weather is given as the cause for the poor growth. Alfalfa that was sown last fall is showing no growth the agent said. The corn crop in the district, however, was the largest in several years.

Springfield Kicks Off.

The Bearcats won the toss and elected to receive from the east. Britton of Springfield kicks off over the goal. Maryville's ball on 20 yard line.

A line play was smothered without gain. Willoughby went around end for 1 yard; Berst punted to the 40 yard line and Davis was caught in his tracks.

Henderson made 2 yards on a hard line smash; Wormington was held off right tackle; Davis, on wide end run, added 4 yards; Reynaud punted high to the 20 yard line to Eads. Eads ran back 5 yards.

On fake punt Masters gained 2 yards, Search failed to gain off left tackle; Berst punted to Davis on the 40 yard line, who returned the ball 15 yards; Austin picked a hole over left guard for 4 yards; Wormington cut back from right end for about 6 yards. The officials measured the distance to see if the Bears made first and ten. The ball lacked six inches. 3rd and 1 foot. Wormington made 2 yards over right end for 1 and 10.

Bears Forced to Punt.

Wormington was held at the center of the line without gain. Davis was thrown for a yard loss on an end run; Henderson failed to gain through center; the Bears lined up for a place kick. Austin kicked and the ball was a few feet low.

Masters plowed around left end for 5 yards. Masters off left tackle for 2 yards; Ikey Eads around right end for 3 yards and 1 and 10; Willoughby carried the ball 10 yards and fumbled ball, Henderson recovered. Search blocked a pass attempted by Davis. Austin went over left tackle for 1 yard.

Springfield was penalized for 5 yards for having its backfield in motion before the ball was snapped. A bad pass from center to Davis lost 8 yards. Reynaud punted 40 yards to Search, who was stopped in his tracks.

Henderson, captain of the Bears, was hurt.

Masters was stopped at right guard. Berst punted to the Bears' 35-yard line. Berst tackled Reynaud behind his own line for a 1 yard loss. Miller made a shoe-string tackle of Reynaud for a 6 yard loss.

Captain England Hurt.

Captain England was hurt but was able to continue in play. It was the Bears ball on their own 20-yard line. Reynaud punted 20 yards and the ball was grounded. Willoughby hit right guard for 4 yards; Masters plunged over center for 2 yards; Ikey Eads got loose for 20 yards off right end. He fell down or would have advanced further.

Eads gained 2 yards over left guard as the quarter ended. It was Maryville's ball on the Springfield 20-yard line.

Second Quarter.

Willoughby failed to gain on a wide end run, but Eads passed to Search for 20 yards. It was Maryville's ball on the Bears' 10-yard line. Masters gained 1 yard through center. Eads failed to gain on a cross-buck. Eads lost 1 yard on a wide end run. A pass from Eads was blocked, and the Bears took the ball on downs on their own 10 yard line.

Henderson went off right tackle for 3 yards; Austin gained 7 yards around left end and it was first and ten for the Bears. Wormington failed to gain on a line buck, but made 5 yards off right end on the next play; Reynaud punted 30 yards out of bounds. It was Maryville's ball in the center of the field.

Willoughby gained 1 yard on an off-tackle smash. Reynaud intercepted Eads' pass without a gain. Lewis went in for Cox on the Maryville team. Davis failed to gain over right guard; Reynaud failed to gain over left tackle; Austin failed to gain, and Reynaud punted to the Maryville 20-yard line, where Search gained 2 yards.

Long Run Called Back.

Masters gained 1 yard over left guard. Eads broke loose with perfect interference for a 30 yard gain around right end, but Maryville was offside on this play and was penalized 5 yards. Wise went in for Wilcox.

Eads again had perfect interference for an 8-yard gain. Davis caught Eads' punt on his 40 yard line and ran back 3 yards. Wormington failed to gain through the center of the line. Austin, on a cross-buck, failed to gain. The Bears were penalized 5 yards for off side.

Search batted a pass into Britton's hand, who gained 68 yards before being downed. E. and M. Neal were sent in for Potter and Britton. Wormington made first down for the Bears by a 3 yard gain off right end.

Henderson gained half a yard off left tackle. A pass from Davis was incomplete. Bears punted to the Maryville 4-yard line. Search twisted his way around right end for 7 yards. Masters was held at the line. Search punted to Davis, who was downed on his own 40 yard line.

Davis cut back around end for 3 yards. Austin failed to gain through center. Henderson gained 1 yard around left end. The Bears punted across the goal line as the half ended.

Second Half.

Reynaud kicked off to Search, who returned the ball to the 30-yard line. Masters went over right guard for 1 yard; Masters cut around Springfield's left end for 13 yards. It is Maryville's ball, first and ten. Masters gained 3 yards on a fake through center. The ball was on Springfield's 39 yard line.

On a fumble, Wormington recovered the ball for Springfield on their own 35-yard line. Reynaud was thrown for a 1 yard loss. Austin sneaked through right tackle for 6 yards. Wormington gained 1 yard over left guard. Reynaud punted to Willoughby, who signaled for a fair catch on his own 20 yard line.

Search gained a scant 2 yards around right end. He was tackled by Britton with an open field ahead of him. Willoughby went through center for 1 and Masters, on a short end run, carried the ball for a 4-yard gain. Search punted to the 48 yard line, and Springfield made no return.

Miller of Maryville threw Davis for a 2-yard loss. On the next play Reynaud was stopped at the line. Austin also failed to gain. Wise was substituted for Tolliver in the Springfield line-up. Reynaud punted to Willoughby, and there was an argument as to whether Willoughby touched the ball. It was given to Maryville on her own 25-yard line. Willoughby was stopped at the line. The Maryville backfield was in motion and the Bearcats were penalized 5 yards.

Masters carried the ball to the 45-yard line. He was aided by perfect interference. Masters made eight yds. and gets big ovation; Willoughby fails to gain; Search punts out of bounds on Springfield's fifteen yard line; Reynaud in punt formation and Wilmington through line for yard; Austin through center for 3 yards; Reynaud punted to Search who took ball on his own twenty-five yard line; he was downed in his tracks. Both teams showing effect of heat.

Search fails to gain; Eads through right tackle for one-yard gain; Search back to punt and he kicks to Davis, who was downed on fifty-yard line; both teams tiring very fast; Reynaud fails to gain through line.

Another Fumble Costly.

Reynaud was stopped one yard behind the line of scrimmage; a pass, Davis to Henderson was incomplete; Reynaud was forced to punt and his kick was almost straight up and bounded toward Maryville goal line; Search took the ball and was downed on his own twenty-eight yard line.

Maryville fumbled and lost nine yards; second down and nineteen to go. Time was taken out and water was brought on the field for the players.

The Maryville stands pleaded for Masters to go through; Search went around right end for three yards.

Berst back in punt formation and kicked to Davis who received ball on fifty-yard line and returned ball eleven yards before he was stopped; Ward in for Neal for Springfield right tackle, Springfield's ball on Maryville's thirty five yard line; Reynaud fumbles but recovers ball with one-yard loss.

Miller of Maryville breaks through interference and threw Reynaud for five-yard loss; third quarter is nearly over; pass from Davis to Austin was incomplete, Willoughby knocking it down; Reynaud punted to Search, who was downed within one yard of his own goal line.

Fourth Quarter.

Berst went back ten yards behind his goal to punt and it was a fake and Search is stopped at line of scrimmage; second down and Berst went back to kick; he punted to Davis who is downed on Maryville's twenty-nine yard line; Reynaud gained seven yards, third down and two to go; Austin made first down; Springfield's ball on Maryville's eighteen-yard line; Reynaud gained five yards around right end; Austin through right tackle for two yards more; ball on Maryville's twelve yard line.

Reynaud lost one foot on left end run; Cox in for Stone in Maryville line up; Reynaud back for place kick and the kick was good. Springfield 3; Maryville 0.

Springfield kicked off and Willoughby received ball on his ten yard line and returned it to twenty-six yard line; Masters gained one yard on left end run; second and nine to go; Masters added another yard through right guard and Maryville stands pleaded for a touchdown; pass, Eads to Willoughby good for eleven yards and first down; on double pass, Eads thrown for six yard loss; second down and six to go; Eads passed to Berst and ball is on twenty-six yard line; Masters through left tackle for thirteen yards; Maryville's ball on Springfield's fifteen yard line; Willougsby through left tackle for three yards.

Maryville stands went wild and yelled for a touchdown; Eads lost one yd. on right end run; he placed ball in front of goal posts; Masters through for three yards; Masters around left end to Springfield's three-yard line; first and goal to go; Berst was thrown for five-yard loss on attempted end run; Bears fighting like wild cats in front of their own goal; a pass, Search to Willoughby, good for one yard; fourth and seven to go; Eads place-kicked clearly over the goal posts and the score was Maryville 3; Springfield 3.

Springfield kicked off to Search, who took ball on his own ten-yard line and ran it back to his thirty-seven yard line; Masters through left end for two yards; time out for Eads of Maryville; Hamilton in for Eads; Hamilton thru left tackle for five yards; Masters hit a stone wall; fourth down and six yds to go; Search punted to Davis, who returned five yards to Springfield's thirty-two yard line; Henderson four yds through right tackle; Henderson hit a stone wall, no gain.

Reynaud kicked to Search, who was downed in his tracks on the Maryville thirty-eight yard line; first and ten to go; Maryville fumbles and Springfield recovers on Maryville's thirty-two yard line; Reynaud gained two yards around right end; Davis thrown for five-yard loss; game over.

Pastime Stables Win in Harness Classes

Prince Albert and Allerzo, two horses of the Pastime stables here, made a good showing in the roadster classes and single roadster stakes at the Kansas National Stock Show, held at Wichita this week.

Prince Albert and Allerzo won first on pair, and Prince Albert took third in three other classes.

Two Men Fined by Arkoe Mayor Appeal

On a warrant issued by Dwight Swinford, mayor of Arkoe, Sheriff Lowell Campbell yesterday morning arrested Dewey Eads and Homer Farmer on charge of being intoxicated at that place on Monday night.

The two men, arraigned before Mayor Swinford, were each fined $10, and both appealed to the circut court.

Good Exhibit Held at Burlington Junction

Muddy Roads, However, Prevent Several Rural Schools From Taking Part.

The school exhibit and Armistice Day program held Wednesday under the auspices of the Burlington Junction Community Club and American Legion was well attended and the work that was entered was very good, according to the Burlington Junction Post, however, the condition of the roads made it impossible for many of the rural schools to send exhibits or take part in any way. Many of them had planned to enter floats but were unable to get them there on account of the mud.

The entries to most of the grade and high school work were filled with the work from the local school. The classes in vitalized agriculture and other work done especially in the rural schools were not filled, and in some of them there were no entries.

Eighty-two dollars and twenty-five cents were given away in prizes, the money going to the Burlington Junction, Little Brick, Hardesty and Pleasant Valley schools.

The program given at the Methodist Church under the auspices of the American Legion and the Burlington Junction schools was well attended. The main address was given by Dr. L. S. Long of St. Joseph. Dr. Long called attention to the form of government which the people of the United States enjoys and our privileges as a nation. He also stressed the great hope of a future America through the men and women of tomorrow.

The exhibit was judged by Dr. C. P. Fryar, W. W. Stanfield, and Miss Faye Townsend of Maryville.

Barnard Oil Lease Plan May Go Over

More Than 6,000 Acres Signed Up And 4,000 More Sought—No Local Money Asked.

The oil lease proposal calling for a lease of 10,000 acres of land in the vicinity of Barnard will in all probability be accomplished in the near future, according to the Barnard Bulletin.

More than six thousand acres have already been pledged according to F. E. Daniels, president of the Community Club, with all indications favorable that the rmainder of the required amount will be signed up in a few days.

Robert Bridges reports that he has had a letter from O'Hara stating that the people of the community would not be asked to put up a penny. It was at first stated that it was customary for the people of the community to pay one-half of the expense of promotion but as some did not like this plan, O'Hara is willing to stand all of the expense if they will furnish him with the leases.

He believes there is oil near Barnard and is willing to back his judgment.

Mrs. W. H. Sherlock of Burlington Junction was a Maryville visitor today.

Floods Cost Louisiana $1,000,000

Eight and a half inches of rainfall in less than a week caused a disastrous flood that destroyed $1,000,000 worth of crops, tied up traffic and demoralized oil wells in Louisiana. Photo shows how the tracks of the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific railroad were flooded near Gibbsland, La., stopping all traffic for several days.

Students Hold Mass Meeting Last Night

Students of the State Teachers College held a pep meeting at 8 o'clock last night at the courthouse for the Springfield-Maryville game today. Speeches were made by several faculty members of the College, and there was a rehearsal of school songs and yells.

Following the meeting the students "rushed" the American Legion Frolic at the W. O. W. Hall.

This Year-A TORNADO and an EARTHQUAKE!

The RED CROSS did not fail

Now the Red Cross asks you to join—surely YOU will not fail

Misfortune—disaster—lives lost and threatened—in these moments the great work of the Red Cross is keenly felt.

This very year the competence of the Red Cross in times of catastrophe was magnificently illustrated both at Santa Barbara, shaken by earthquake, and in the five middle western states that were swept by a tornado.

Always the Red Cross is ready to help, to provide food, shelter, medical care, clothing. And in countless other ways, less dramatic perhaps, but vital for the welfare of human beings, the Red Cross renders its humane aid: Public Health Nursing, Nutrition Service, Life Saving Instruction, Service to Disabled Veterans—for every need the Red Cross is ready.

This great organization needs constant support. Now the Red Cross asks your support. Asks you to enroll—it costs you one dollar. Can you do anything but respond to the call?

The Stuff That Makes a Winner

Who is the victor in the football game?
It isn't the player who makes a bluff at the start, but the one who has enough in reserve at the opportune time to make a goal.

It's the same way in life. The man or woman with the most in reserve for the crucial moment wins.
